Installing or upgrading with QLA

Quark® License Administrator (QLA) is software that manages licensed Quark products. If you purchased an educational site license or a commercial site license, you most likely received a QLA CD-ROM when you purchased QuarkXPress. QLA must be installed on your network before you install QuarkXPress.

If QLA is already installed and you are installing QuarkXPress, the License Server Details dialog box displays after you enter your registration information. Before proceeding, verify that you have the information you need to enter values in the following fields:

- License Server Host Name or IP Address: Enter the IP address or server name for the server you have designated as the license server. The license server handles requests from license clients.
- License Server Port: Enter the value for the license server port. This number is determined when the QLA software is registered online. The license server port is the port through which license server requests flow.
- Backup License Server Host Name or IP Address: Enter the IP address or server name for the server you have designated as the backup license server.
- Backup License Server Port: Enter the value for the backup license server port.

Registering

To register your copy of the application, visit the "Online registration" page of the Quark Web site (see Contacting Quark). If you cannot register online, see Contacting Quark for contact information.

Activating

If you have a single-user copy of QuarkXPress, you must activate it. To activate QuarkXPress when you launch it, click Activate Now.

If you do not want to activate QuarkXPress when you launch it, click Continue. QuarkXPress presents the option to activate it each time you launch the application until you activate it.

If you do not activate QuarkXPress, you can use it for 30 days after installation; after 30 days, the product runs in demonstration mode and must be activated before it will run as a full version.

➔ If you cannot activate online, see Contacting Quark for contact information.

Uninstalling

➔ If the uninstaller detects a running instance of the application, an alert displays. Close the application before you begin to uninstall.

Uninstalling: Mac OS

To uninstall QuarkXPress, open the "Applications" folder on your hard drive (or the folder in which QuarkXPress was installed) and drag the QuarkXPress folder to the trash.

Uninstalling: Windows

To uninstall QuarkXPress:

- 1 Choose Start > All Programs > QuarkXPress > Uninstall.
- 2 Click Yes. The uninstaller gathers the information necessary for uninstalling and then an alert displays to notify you that the contents of the QuarkXPress application folder will be deleted.
- 3 Click Yes to continue or No to cancel.

➔ You can also uninstall by running the installer again.

Changes in this version

This version includes the following changes.

Configurable preferences location

You can control where the application puts its preferences files by editing the file named "settings.xml" at the root of the application folder. By default, the contents of this file look like this:

```
<?xml version="1.0" encoding="UTF-8" standalone="no"?>
<Configuration Version='0800'>
  <PreferencesLocation>
    <Win></Win>
    <Mac></Mac>
  </PreferencesLocation>
</Configuration>

You can specify the location of preferences on Windows using the `<Win>` element, and you can specify the location of preferences on Mac OS using the `<Mac>` element. (The file includes both so that you can use the same file on both platforms.)

To specify the location of the application's preferences folder, simply enter the path to that location. You can use exact paths, relative paths, environment variables, or a combination of any of these. For example, all of the following are valid:

- `<Win>C:\Quark\Prefs</Win>`
- `<Win>%appdata%</Win>` (stores preferences in `C:\Users\[user]\AppData\Roaming\`)
- `<Win>..\Preferences</Win>` (stores preferences in the application folder's parent folder)
- `<Win>\\[server]\Prefs</Win>` (stores preferences in a shared network folder)
- `<Mac>[drive]/Users/[user]/Documents/Preferences</Mac>`

➔ In the examples above, brackets indicate a portion of the path that you should fill in with the value that's appropriate on your computer.
